Summary

I learned Web Development out of sheer curiosity, and I'm thrilled to be able to demonstrate my proficiency on the Fiverr platform in such a short amount of time.

A few of the Fiverr jobs I received were more challenging than others (I lacked the expertise). Due to my autonomy and can-do attitude, I was able to complete all of them on time. Obviously, my clients assisted me throughout the process, but the majority of them kept a generous connection with me as a result of my openness and efficient communication. This allowed me to discuss more and learn about their business culture and how they maintain certain tasks.

I'm truly grateful for the contacts I've cultivated through this platform throughout the years, which have allowed me to further extend my knowledge and think outside of the box. As a result of having the chance to work closely with solo founders, I was able to understand their pain points, which is currently benefiting me in my career.
